

Want to get CSPD'd ???
1 getting started workshop + 1 resume development workshop + 1 resume critique - you're CSPD'd

Choose the Double Header option and you'll need only a resume critique to be CSPD'd.

Double Header

Getting Started and Resume Development comprise our double header "back-to-back" sessions required for a) entry to CSPD recruiting events and b) to apply for FoxNet job listings.

Getting Started

This introduction to CSPD is designed to orient students to CSPD services, including an overview of FoxNet, a web-based resume and recruiting tool, Fox Net user integrity, employer expectations, leadership development opportunities and exploring the market.

Industry Interviews

Industry interviews are premier opportunities for Fox students to conduct research, practice and improve interview and communication skills with employers and receive valuable back. Business professional dress is required for all industry interviews. Students should sign up via FoxNet.

Resume development

During this 50-minute resume workshop, attendees will learn about the Fox School signature resume and how to transfer individual skills to a business context. Participants will also review how to use the three-bullet format to describe their experiences.

Employer Resume critique

Ready for feedback from prospective employers? Bring your resume to an Employer Resume critique session and obtain valuable feedback from corporate representatives who hire Fox students!

Resume critique

Ready for a resume critique? Complete one of the CSPD resume workshops and bring your Fox Signature resume to the CSPD for an in-depth resume review and helpful tips to improve.

Was it something I said?

This one-hour interview skills workshop will feature practical application of targeted selection (BEI) and traditional interview techniques that are widely used for entry-level candidates. The session will include practice in preparing concise accomplishment statements, 30-second spot how to's and tips for a positive close.

Researching Industries

This 60-minute workshop is your starting point for career and industry awareness. You'll learn more about saavy web searches, how to determine what you need to know as well as how to stay focused as you sift through mounds of web data to prepare for career planning, networking activities, interviews, and other important professional development events.
