

FMA

Financial Management Association

www.templefma.com

Volume 18 Issue 4

General Meetings: Mondays, 12:00-12:50, Alter 233

Thursday, November 10, 2011

FMA Calendar

November 10th – Mentors Luncheon and Career Symposium, 12:00pm-4:00pm at the University of Pennsylvania – sign up here.

November 14th – General Meeting, Marc Neumann and Kelly Zanto, Lighthouse Financial Planners.

November 21st – Excel Workshop, Speakman Lab 27.

December 3rd – Temple Basketball game with KIPP Charter School.

FMA Helps with the Special Olympics

On Saturday, October 22, FMA teamed with J.P. Morgan Chase as volunteers in the Special Olympics Fall Festival at the University of Delaware. 11 members of FMA helped with the Olympics soccer tournament, which included warming up the children to get them ready for the games, running drills, keeping score, and, most importantly, cheering. The children did very well and had a great time; during the day, the children were saying how excited they were to be playing and that they were looking forward to receiving their medals. Each child had a terrific day, which was culminated when they received their medals. It was a special moment when, during the closing ceremony, three Delaware State Police officers in full uniform placed a medal around the neck of each participant. It was a very moving and worthwhile day, and a great time was had by all. Special thanks to Brian Nourie and Keivan Raika, vice presidents of J.P. Morgan Chase, who have extended FMA an invitation to participate in the Special Olympics every year.

Northstar Resource Group

On October 26, FMA had the privilege of hosting Ed Deutschlander, CEO of Northstar Resource Group. Mr. Deutschlander's resume is quite impressive; besides moving up within Northstar very quickly, he has been mentioned in multiple "40 under 40" lists by business magazines. Northstar Resource Group is a financial services company that offers financial planning as well as insurance and investment products. Mr. Deutschlander's talk focused on ways that students can set goals and stay motivated while balancing their studies with all other aspects of their lives. His talk included many of his own personal stories, including how, as a student, he never saw himself entering the finance industry at all. At the end of the presentation, Deutschlander introduced a personal development exercise that he, himself, uses; he encouraged everyone in attendance to take two pieces of paper, write the same short term and long term goals on each, and seal it with a date on which it is to be opened.

Mr. Deutschlander is interested in interviewing Temple students for internships and jobs, please reach out to FMA leadership if this opportunity would interest you.

The Risk Management Association (RMA)

On October 24th, Mr. Michael Mango, the Northeast Regional Manager of the Risk Management Association, spoke with FMA regarding the benefits of joining a professional organization such as the Risk Management Association. RMA is a not-for-profit, member-driven professional association whose sole purpose is to advance the use of sound risk principles in the financial services industry. RMA helps banking and nonbanking institutions identify and manage the impacts of credit risk, operational risk, and market risk on their businesses and customers.

Aside from explaining the inherent benefits to being exposed to risk management principles as they pertain to finance, Mango also stressed the numerous networking activities with industry professionals that exist, and how joining the RMA can lead to obtaining highly sought-after internships and jobs.

Additionally, as a special promotion to FMA, Mike Mango and the RMA have waived all application fees for FMA members. Applications can be found attached this week's Newsletter e-mail.

Financial Management Association - Executive Officers 2011

Executive Officers

President, Wenhao Zuo, wenhao.zuo@temple.edu

Vice President, Pete Grant, pete.grant@temple.edu

Treasurer, Kevin Waithe, kevin.waithe@temple.edu

Secretary, Ana Nikolic, ana.nikolic@temple.edu